

PROLIFE FACTS

Earlier this year as part of a campaign to make abortion more acceptable, there was a series of first-hand accounts in some NZ publications. The theme was on how positive their abortion experience was and how compassionate the doctors and clinic staff.

In contrast, a post-abortion counsellor at the Voice for Life AGM in Auckland, shared with permission this letter one of her clients wrote on the anniversary of her abortion (edited for size).

"Things have moved on, yet I still have a longing to hold you, to see your eyes, to hear a baby's laughter.

There is a little hole in my heart, a sad ache, which will never heal, no matter how many times I try to fill it. That part of my heart is forever with you my little boy.

I wish I never let you go, to have crushed a little flower blooming. I don't forgive myself for doing that to you. A little boy is who I long to hold. I love you. You would have been gorgeous."
